FLEET IN HUDSON RIVER.

New York, Oct. 30.—The most powerful fleet ever assembled in American waters is riding at anchor in the Hudson river, all spick and span and ready for the great naval review tomorrow. The fleet comprises more than 100 vessels, ranging from the monster battleship of the dreadnought type to the tiny submarine. All day long the New York and New Jersey shores were thronged with thousands of spectators, while thousands of others who wanted to see the fleet at closer range took passage on the steamers, ferryboats and other craft plying up and down the river.
